

R E M A R K S

Claims 22 to 39 are the case.

With this amendment, applicant is submitting a new set of claims which is believed to better define the invention over the prior art.

The Abstract of the disclosure has been corrected as suggested by the Examiner.

In the specification, pages 1 and 5 have been corrected to overcome the objections of the Examiner.

Claim 22 has been written to define the invention in terms of the pocket formed in a hanging structure and wherein there is an aperture formed in the bottom portion of the web, the aperture being spaced substantially equally from each of the side marginal edges. This limitation, as discussed with the Examiner, is to be believed to be novel in view of the prior art. None of the references disclose such an arrangement.

In this respect, it is noted that the Examiner had cited that U.S. Patent 4,232,596 with respect to previous Claim 2 which define the apertures. However, it is believed that this reference, disclosing a cooking basket is far removed from the instant application. Even further, it does not show an arrangement wherein the apertures are spaced substantially equally from each of the side marginal edges for holding disc like articles.

New Claim 34 has been written to the combination of the hanging file system and a plurality of disc shaped members. Again, the essential limitation of the aperture is present in the claim.

It is now believed this Application is in order for allowance, and such action is respectfully solicited.

Respectfully,

Winston MacKelvie
